Speech-Language Pathology Assistant Program Admissions Information

Program Information

The Speech-Language Pathology Assistant curriculum prepare graduates to work under the supervision of a Licensed Speech-Language Pathologist, who screens for speech, language, and hearing disorders and treats individuals with various communication disorders. Courses provide instruction in methods of screening for speech, language, and hearing disorders and in following written protocols designed to remediate individual communication problems. Supervised field experience includes working with patients of various ages and with various communication disorders.

Graduates may be eligible for registration with the North Carolina Board of Examiners for Speech-Language Pathologist and Audiologist and must be supervised by a Licensed Speech-Language Pathologist. They may be employed in health care or education settings.

Students entering the SLPA program are expected to display mastery of the English language with proficient oral communication skills. The student must be able to correctly model articulation and language behavior.

Applicants may complete non-SLPA courses prior to acceptance.

To insure the public health and safety of all patients many of our clinical affiliation sites require personal criminal background checks and/or drug screening in order for the student to participate in clinical education at that site.

Most disciplines of Health Sciences require registration, certification or licensure to practice in the health care field. Most examining boards require proof of good moral character to apply to take the registration, certification or licensure examination. If you have further questions, please contact the N.C. Board of Examiners for Speech and Language Pathologists and Audiologists at 336-272-1828.

An applicant may be denied admission if his/her physical or emotional health indicates an impairment in the ability to provide safe and effective care to the public. Conduct in accordance with the standards of Licensed Speech-Language Pathologists' professional Code of Ethics is required.

The speech – language pathology assistant program is a two-year program with a limited class size. During the spring semester of each year a new class is accepted to begin the next fall class. Admission requirements should be completed by March 1st in order to be considered for admission to the next class.
